Welcome to the latest Metal 'Ardwear Catalog where you will find a hoard of the highest quality accessories.

With vast armies sweeping the Galaxy and planets being ravaged, plundered and pillaged, the time had come to find a suitable receptacle in which to keep your most treasured possessions safe.

It was our sworn duty to do so.

We sent seven of our most highly trained and valued Space Marines to search the Imperium with orders not to return empty handed! At long last, and after much time searching through the grim darkness of space, suffering many casualties on the way, the last one returned with stories too horrific to be retold.

Grasped in his severed and mutilated hand was a Coffus Imperialus, a receptacle reserved for only the most valued of Imperial artefacts.

We immediately set our amanuensis to work to replicate the artifact for you to covet.

* Coffus Imperialus
